150+ nanomedicine projects

Tap into decades of GMP experience delivering downstream success

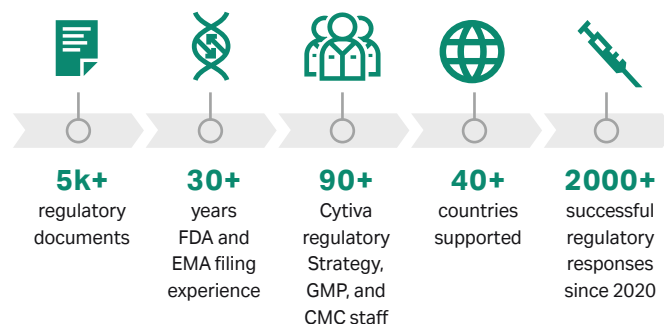

Looking to be first to market? Our nanoparticle development strategies can help you get there. Take control of your nanomedicine journey and confidently accelerate to every milestone with Cytiva by your side.

Core capabilities

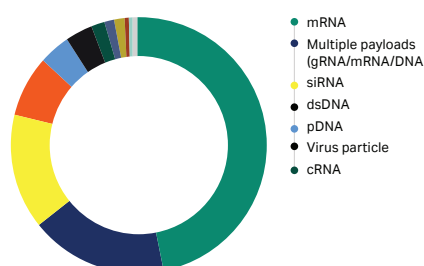

To maximize success and fast-track your drug from discovery to GMP manufacturing, our highly-specialized team brings cutting-edge technology and deep industry knowledge — including analytical and regulatory support — together, all under one roof.

Extensive global regulatory expertise

After decades of working across diverse payloads and nanoparticles, we know that nanoparticle experience beyond formulation is critically important. Our BioPharma Services team is made up of problem-solvers who have tackled regulatory hurdles, process development uncertainties, manufacturing challenges, and more, so you don't have to do it alone.
