

UV Test Kit Calculation protocol

This protocol is intended to be used together with Cytiva UV Test Kits. Follow the measuring procedures found in the Instruction for use. After entering the measured absorbance values, the protocol will calculate the UV monitor linearity as well as the flow cell length.

This document needs to be open in Adobe Reader with Javascript active to use it. This message will be removed when correct program is used to open it.