

Cytiva and Pall Life Sciences – Privacy Update for Customers and Partners

To prepare for Pall Life Sciences and Cytiva to operate as one business under the Cytiva brand, your personal data may be shared between the two businesses (Cytiva and Pall) for the purposes specified below.

Cytiva and Pall take measures to ensure that your personal data is protected. The basis of processing your personal data for purposes specified below is the legitimate interest to grow our business.

I. Processing purposes

As part of the merging process, Cytiva and Pall Life Sciences will exchange, and further process personal data to enable our future organization. The detailed purposes include:

- Aligning our processes;
- Setting up common systems and applications;
- Taking pre-sale activities including contact sharing;
- Common offers and contracting;
- Maintaining customer profiles;
- Processing current and historical order information, managing and validating sales.

II. Additional information

You can learn more about your rights and how to exercise them, as well as about how both Pall Life Sciences and Cytiva process your personal data including data transfers:

- For Cytiva - [\[here\]](#)
- For Pall Life Sciences – [\[here\]](#)

III. Contact Us

If you have any data privacy related questions or concerns regarding this process, you may reach out to the Platform Privacy Leader at privacy@cytiva.com.